ABOUT WAAVP AND WAAVP 2023

The World Association for the Advancement of Veterinary Parasitology (WAAVP) was formally established on 16th August, 1963. It is the largest international veterinary parasitology organization in the world. WAAVP is a non-profit organization for scientists who study the parasites of animals, encompassing helminthology, protozoology and entomology. The Association encourages research in veterinary parasitology and to promote exchange of information and material amongst researchers, veterinary practitioners and animal health investigators. Apart from organizing scientific meetings, the WAAVP, which is affiliated with the World Veterinary Association, coordinates with various national, international and affiliated organizations, such as WHO, OIE and FAO, in all matters concerning veterinary parasitology. The Association also plays important roles in preparing and publishing anthelmintic guidelines and participates in the development of the official guidelines for anthelmintic testing.

WAAVP International Conferences are held biennially in various major cities around the world for the past 59 years. The official language of the conference is English. Over the 59 years, these conferences have attracted attendees from all around the globe.

WAAVP International Conferences have given the parasitologists an opportunity to learn about the parasitological perspectives and to enjoy the culture of the host country!

India is delighted to be the first country in South Asia to host the 29th WAAVP conference in the iconic ITC Grand Chola, Chennai from 20 – 24 August 2023.
